Hi Rick

Please see attached Modified Terminal Cleaning, this was originally developed when the H1N1 was a factor, please also see the below email thread from our chemical supplier. Hope this helps.

Thanks for the quick reply Ho Yi, we do have the Quat Shot on hand and for the short term we will use this, very much appreciated.

Please excuse any grammar/spelling errors as sent from my phone, thanks

Hi, right now there's no infectant in the market that can claim COVID-19 kill efficacy. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (<https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/home/cleaning-disinfection.html>) suggested most common registered household disinfectants should be effective, that includes Orderly. If you're looking for a specific disinfectant that can kill coronavirus (COVID-19 is a type of coronavirus), our product Quat-Shot can kill human coronavirus with just two minutes contact time. I've attached product information sheet for Quat-Shot. It's a ready to use solution that comes in quart size.

Quat shot is also a US EPA registered product.

Hi Ho Yi

I was just provided your contact info in an automated reply.

We currently are using Orderly as or disinfectant and would like to know if this is adequate to continue using with the COVID-19 virus outbreak, our products are supplied by Planet Clean (Courtenay BC) thanks any direction is appreciated,
